

Insights into the Logistics scene of China

Mohita G.Sharma
Asst.Professor
FORE School of Management
New Delhi 110 016
E-mail: mohita@fsm.ac.in

Abstract

The economic growth goes hand in hand with the logistics growth. To cope with the 2009 recession, China has geared itself by laying a strong foundation to logistics. The policies to boost this sector has had an revitalizing effect on the economy of the country. This article gives a comprehensive picture of the current logistics scene in China

Key Words: Logistics, China, Transport,Infrastructure.

Acknowledgement: I thank Prof. Xiaodong Wang of University of International Business and Economics for sharing her views on this subject. I also acknowledge my Institute FORE School of Management for providing me the opportunity to have a firsthand experience of China and interacting with the Chinese academician which provided me with a better appreciation of the scene.